

CSCI 461
Senior Project
Deliverables 10/28/09

What are we looking for?

Show the class a demonstration of your project to date.

There should be working code and/or hardware depending on your project choice.

Bring with you, source code, development environment (JCreator, MS Visual Studio, or other), hardware, computer, and other devices to appropriately demo your project progress to date.

If you are porting your project to an external server, install this code onto a machine that you can bring to class.

During your demo you will want to discuss your progress to date, your challenges, and changes in your original specification document.

A power point presentation is not required.

Please don't say – "If I had brought _____ I could show you _____".
Please bring all that is required.
