

CSCI 461
Senior Project
Deliverables 11/17/09

Copy of Presentation (Electronic)

The presentation will be a summary of your User Manual.

Copy of the User Manual (Paper and Electronic)

User Manual Guidelines

The exact content of the User Manual will depend on your project.

The goal of this document is to completely describe how a user can run your project.

You need to include screen shots, a sample session, and a description of the various options and setting that a user can do while executing your project.

Organization of the user manual:

Table of Contents

Walk (through screen shots and a narrative) the user through a typical user session describing what a user must do to complete the major tasks of your project.

Describe (through screen shots and a narrative) all of the various options and settings that a user can perform.

Frequently Asked Questions.

Index

Keep this in mind:

Another individual should be able to read this document and use your project.

Do not create a video, this is a manual.